He has published more than 70 research papers in peer-reviewed journals and/or as chapters in edited books. In his professional career, he has led more than 30 research projects in the aforementioned areas.

1.8 Language and Programming Skills

Binayak knows several languages, including Bengali, English, and Russian. He is familiar with modern econometric techniques and can work independently with programming tools such as STATA.

1.9 National and International Consultancy Experience

Binayak has extensive consultancy experience over the past three decades, particularly in impact evaluations, having worked for the World Bank, the ADB, WHO, WFP, UN-ESCAP, UNDP, JICA, GEZ, and FCDO at both national and international levels. For over two decades, he has led, on behalf of BIDS, several multidisciplinary research teams that produced major flagship reports on Bangladesh for national and international agencies. These, among others, include (a) Fighting Human Poverty: Bangladesh Human Development Report (2001) for the Planning Commission/UNDP; (b) Chronic Poverty in Bangladesh: Tales of Ascent, Descent, Marginality and Persistence (2006) for the DFID/FCDO in collaboration with University of Manchester; and (c) co-directed the study on The Forcibly Displaced Myanmar Nationals in Bangladesh: Evidence from Household Survey (2019) for WFP conducted with IFPRI and Cornell University.

1.10 Contribution to International Development Reports

Binayak has also prepared Technical Background Papers for several global development reports, which required him to analyze not only Bangladesh data but also empirical indicators for other developing countries, using large-scale, multi-country datasets. These include the following:

1. World Development Report 2013: Jobs (contributed a background paper on “Jobs and Development in Bangladesh” – subsequently published as a chapter in a book edited by M. Rama and G. Betcherman, published by Oxford University Press in 2016).
2. UNDP’s 2013 report entitled "Humanity Divided: Confronting Inequality in Developing Countries" (contributed a background paper on “Non-income Inequalities” forming Chapter 4 of the report).
 - Binayak’s paper analyzes changes in non-income inequalities in health, education, and nutrition of developing countries. Other background papers were contributed by Andy Sumner, Rolph van der Hoeven, and Stephanie Seguino.
3. UN-ESCAP’s 2003 report on MDGs entitled Promoting the Millennium Development Goals in Asia and the Pacific: Meeting the Challenges of Poverty Reduction.
 - Binayak contributed to Chapter 2 on “National Policies and Priorities for Achieving the MDGs” based on cross-country data of the ESCAP member countries. The chapter analyzed the links between growth, poverty, and social MDGs. Other background papers were contributed by Nanak Kakwani and Peter Warr.

1.11 Contribution to Festschrifts

Binayak has contributed three important papers for the festschrift volumes honoring Prof. Rehman Sobhan, Prof. A. R. Khan, and Prof. Keith Griffin, as captured below:

- “Human Capital, Urbanization, and Ethnicity: Analysis of Regional Inequality in Sri Lanka” in Development, Equity and Poverty: Essays in Honor of Azizur Rahman Khan (Eds. L. Banerjee, A. Dasgupta, R. Islam), Macmillan India, 2010, pp. 144-170.

- “The Structure and Distribution of Personal Income and Poverty Reduction: A Case Study of Bangladesh during the 1990s”. In: Boyce, J. K. et al. (eds.), Human Development in the Era of Globalization. Essays in Honor of Keith B. Griffin, Edward Elgar, 2006, pp. 301-324 (with A. R. Khan)
- “Changes in Poverty in a Cross-section of Countries" in A. Abdullah and A. R. Khan (Ed.), State, Market and Development. Essays in Honor of Rehman Sobhan, Sage Publications, Delhi (also published from the University Press Ltd., Dhaka), 1996, pp. 255-285.

1.12 Major Activities at the World Bank

Binayak spent more than 8 years at the World Bank in Washington, DC, in various capacities: Visiting Research Fellow (June-August 1992); Long-Term Consultant (1993-1995); Regular Staff with HQ-based posting (2004-2009). During this period, he worked in the Operations Evaluation Department (now renamed as the IEG), the Research Department, and PREM-South Asia (renamed Global Development Practices: Poverty Reduction). He has accumulated considerable experience in economic policy and projects across three countries: India, Pakistan, and Sri Lanka. In particular, he has strengthened the statistical capacities of state-level statistical agencies in the Indian states of Jharkhand, Bihar, and West Bengal.

Five major World Bank reports of special relevance that were completed with his active participation:

1. Report No. 41101-IN: India: Accelerating Growth and Development in the Lagging Regions of India, February 21, 2008, Poverty Reduction and Economic Management South Asia, Washington, DC.
2. Binayak wrote Chapter 5, entitled "Human and Social Development in Lagging Regions" (pp. 110-135). The report was a precursor to the World Development Report (WDR) 2009 on Geography and Development, and it has influenced thinking on the economics of lagging regions, a theme that remains relevant today.
3. Conducted “Moving out of Poverty in India” study with Deepa Narayan based on primary surveys of rural communities in 4 states of India—Uttar Pradesh, Andhra Pradesh, Assam, and West Bengal. Binayak was intimately involved in the development of survey instruments and site selection for the above primary surveys in West Bengal, Uttar Pradesh, and Assam. This was published as a book by Palgrave Macmillan in 2009. Binayak wrote the ‘overview’ and two chapters on West Bengal and Assam.
4. Binayak co-directed the flagship study of Poverty Assessment for Pakistan in 2007-09, closely interacting with the Ministry of Finance (Islamabad), the Census Bureau (Lahore), the Federal Bureau of Statistics (Islamabad), LUMS (Lahore), PIDE (Islamabad), and the Collective for Social Research (Karachi).
5. Binayak was the Task Manager of the first World Bank development report on the Indian State of Jharkhand entitled “India - Jharkhand : Addressing the Challenges of Inclusive Development”. It is available through the World Bank website: World Bank. 2007. India - Jharkhand : Addressing the Challenges of Inclusive Development. Washington, DC.
<https://openknowledge.worldbank.org/handle/10986/7739>.
6. Binayak contributed to the Sri Lanka Lagging Regions Report; a background paper was later published in the Festschrift for Prof. A.R. Khan (as noted earlier).
